

SORA process in connection with applications to study

1. Applicant's obligation to provide information

The applicant must answer the SORA questions on the application form regarding whether there is any factor affecting their state of health or functional capacity that could pose an obstacle to them being admitted as a student or whether the applicant's right to study has previously been cancelled based on the SORA legislation.

"Yes"

"No"

Notification of the need for further information

The Admission Services will inform the applicant by email that, if the applicant is selected conditionally, they must provide Metropolia with a certificate of their state of health and a statement from a licensed health care professional.

No measures

Mistake

The applicant says that they selected "Yes" as an answer on the application by mistake.

Metropolia will correct this information on the application. No other measures.

2. Student selection

If the student is admitted, their selection is conditional until they have provided the necessary information about their state of health. The selection will be shown as conditional in My Studyinfo.

3. Additional statements

The Admission Services sends the applicant an email containing a link to the E-lomake form for providing a statement on the state of health, which the applicant must complete by the deadline.

Certificate of state of health

The applicant must provide the certificate to Metropolia.

Incomplete statement

The applicant's certificate of state of health is incomplete.

No certificate

The applicant does not provide a certificate of state of health.

Additional information

The applicant is requested to provide additional information.

Study place is cancelled.

4. Processing of the certificate

Metropolia processes the applicant's certificate of state of health and asks them to come to an interview, if necessary.

Study place is confirmed

The "conditional" modifier is removed from the selection information and the applicant is asked to enrol for the academic year.

Study place is cancelled

The result of the student selection is corrected in My Studyinfo and the applicant is informed of this by email.
